

Additional terms for events

Events are in addition subject to the following provisions, which have priority over the GTCc of AD ALLIANCE:

The Client is liable for the services, contributions and acts which it or persons acting on its behalf discharge in the context of the event or make available for the event, and also for damage or loss arising from the use of items which the Client provides for the event. The Client shall indemnify AD ALLIANCE and the Provider and its marketer against all claims which a third party asserts on the basis of these areas of liability. The indemnification comprises all the damage or loss, costs and other expenditure as well as reasonable costs for defence at law.

AD ALLIANCE reserves the right to draw up conditions of participation in individual cases for events booked and to make the admission of a participant dependent on an express declaration of consent to such conditions of participation.

The fees for events are not eligible for discount, do not generate discount and are not eligible for AE.
